

Sandberg GameSet

The Sandberg GameSet is the ultimate headphone set for those who want to get the best out of their computer games. The powerful two-way speaker system with integrated bass amplifier and vibration ensures fantastic sound reproduction with an emphasis on the bass. You can simply feel the vibration of explosions rumbling and trembling around you, while a helicopter comes rushing from behind you. The volume and bass vibration can be adjusted using the inline control unit. The microphone is mounted on a flexible arm and enables you to chat with other players when competing in network games.
