Sandberg Solar Charger 100W LightWeight is a high-performance solar charger for users who need serious power when away from electrical outlets. The foldable design combines high output with portability, making the panel suitable for outdoor, camping and off-grid use. The monocrystalline PERC solar cells deliver up to 100W, allowing you to charge laptops, power stations, powerbanks and other demanding devices directly from the solar panel via USB-C, USB-A or DC output. The high efficiency ensures stable power delivery under varying conditions. Built with durable ETFE lamination and a robust construction, Sandberg Solar Charger 100W LightWeight is the ideal choice when you need maximum flexibility and high output from solar energy.
