Sandberg Survivor Pocket Worklight Torch is a compact and extra robust flashlight, built for demanding use both indoors and outdoors. The weather-resistant design makes it ready for changing conditions, and with up to 18 hours of light on a single charge, you can rely on it when you need light for extended periods. The flashlight combines a powerful torchlight up to 560 lumens with a wide work light and red signal light. With a range of up to 150 meters, it's suitable for tasks up close and for lighting further ahead. The built-in magnet and clip make it easy to attach the flashlight, so you can have both hands free. Easy charging with USB-C.
