

This adapter enables you to angle a DVI connector by 90 degrees, which is useful if your screen is close up against a wall or if you want to hang a flat screen on the wall. With the angled adapter, the cable is directed downwards instead of out towards the wall, allowing you to position the screen closer to the wall.