

Power cable for connecting computer or monitor. The special feature of this cable is that its computer or monitor connector has a 90 degree angle. This makes it possible to position the computer or monitor very close to a wall. Perfect if the monitor is going to be wall mounted.